'Walking Dead' creator promises bigger shocks in Season 4

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Since its 2010 debut, AMC's smash horror hit "The Walking Dead" arguably has delivered more devastating shocks to the system than any other show in TV history. After all, in Season 3 alone, the writers killed off not one but three main characters, including a young mother who died in childbirth, forcing her adolescent son to fire a bullet into her brain so she wouldn't turn into a zombie.

So as Season 4 premieres Sunday, Oct. 13, it's pretty unnerving to hear the principal goal of creator and executive producer Robert Kirkman is to deliver even bigger jolts than ever before.

"We have been able to do a pretty spectacular job of keeping what we're really doing in Season 4 a secret," Kirkman says happily. "People have seen the promos and they kind of know what's coming, and they can see some cool and exciting stuff happening at the prison, but there is so much story that, really, has not been given away. I think the audience truly is going to be shocked, because trust me, they have no idea what is coming."

If Kirkman is playing things close to his vest as far as the new season's big "OMG!" moments, he's willing to reveal what lies in store for some of the main characters, including Rick Grimes (Andrew Lincoln), who underwent a real crucible in Season 3 before regaining his humanity.

"Season 4, in regards to Rick in particular, is really about his trying to find a way to live in this world that isn't going to turn him into a monster," Kirkman says. "We saw him kind of get to the brink in Season 3, and now we'll see him pull back in a major way as he starts to focus on different things. He's just a very different Rick Grimes.

"We pick up Season 4 a few months after (the Season 3 finale), and we'll see that over time they've actually found more refugees out in the wilderness and brought them into the prison. This is the new haven, so you'll be seeing new faces and a very different side of the prison, as a functioning little piece of civilization, which is a pretty cool change for the show."

But what of last season's main bad guy, the Governor (David Morrissey)? The last time we saw him, Rick's "army" had routed the Governor's much larger attack force. In a rage, the Governor mowed down most of his followers, then drove off to parts unknown with two of his lieutenants.

'Rizzoli & Isles' staying, but producer isn't

BY JAY BOBBIN © Zap2it

Q: I read that the producer of "Rizzoli & Isles" is leaving. Does that mean the show is ending? — Gary Curtis, Boca Raton, Fla.

A: In fact, TNT already has renewed the Angie Harmon-Sasha Alexander show — one of basic cable's most successful original drama series to date — for its fifth season next year, though that happened before executive producer Janet Tamaro announced her decision to step down. (She will remain a consulting producer on it going forward.) Tamaro said the recent suicide of co-star Lee Thompson Young was a factor in her decision, in the sense that it prompted her to decide what she wanted to do professionally. She has said that she has hopes of staying in business with both TNT and "Rizzoli" studio Warner Horizon Television with her forthcoming projects in some fashion.

Q: I am addicted to "Longmire." Please tell me there will be more episodes soon. — Janet Wojnowski, Milwaukee

A: There will be more, but we'll let you decide on your definition of "soon," since the likely return of the Robert Taylor-starring A&E Network series should be around Memorial Day ... which was when its first two seasons started. Along with "Bates Motel," "Longmire" clearly is the face of original drama series for the network now, especially since "The Glades" was canceled after four seasons.

Q: Is there any chance that ABC or its sister station will or can bring back "Body of Proof"? — Marie Cleary, Sanford, N.C.

A: If "sister station" refers to ABC Family, the answer is "no." After ABC decided not to renew the Dana Delany-starring mystery series following its third season, there was some talk of the show being picked up by a cable network, but that ultimately didn't come to anything. It's no surprise that ABC Studios — which furnished the show to its related network — wanted to keep it going, since it generated notable profits on the international front over the course of its run. It's generally thought that fact is what earned it a third season to begin with.

Q: I happened to come across an episode of "The Streets of San Francisco" with Michael Douglas. How long did he do the show? — John Quinn, Lancaster, Calif.

A: Douglas played Inspector Steve Keller, relative novice partner of Detective Lt. Mike Stone (Karl Malden), for the first four seasons of the ABC mystery's five-year run (1972-77). Richard Hatch joined the show in the final season as Douglas departed to take care of other career matters in the wake of winning his first Oscar for producing the 1975 movie "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" ... which his father, Kirk, had long had the film rights to but could never quite get going. The Keller character also was a factor in the 1992 TV movie sequel "Back to the Streets of San Francisco," in which his disappearance was being investigated by Stone, but Douglas was seen only in archival material.

Sunday

America's Funniest Home Videos

6 p.m. on KMBC

YouTube wasn't even a gleam in anyone's eye when this series made its debut. Now it's got lots of competition, but it's still going strong – maybe it's the prizes. Season 24 opens tonight with animal antics, including a fat feline trying to get through a small cat door and a musical montage of dogs making trouble. Host Tom Bergeron also plays a game of "What's the Deal With This?"

NFL Football

Third-year RB DeMarco Murray, who rushed for 175 yards in a Week 3 win over St. Louis, leads an improved running game for the division-leading Cowboys. As for the Redskins, penalties, turnovers and mental errors have undermined them on their way to an 0-3 start.

The producers of this zombie-themed series haven't spilled a lot of secrets about Season 4, but we can expect Grimes (Andrew Lincoln) to re-evaluate his recent choices, Daryl (Norman Reedus) to grow more confident and Michonne (Danai Gurira) to become increasingly driven to make the Governor (David Morrissey) pay for his murderous misdeeds. Some new refugees will also be moving into the prison.

WAIST DEEP

Did someone misspell the first word of the title? All right, maybe that's a bit harsh. Itstars Tyrese Gibson as an ex-con gone straight who reverts to his criminal ways when his son is kidnapped. HAPPY GILMORE

Tuesday at 6 p.m. on FAM

Not all Adam Sandler movies are juvenile and grating. There's "The Wedding Singer" and ... well ... there's "The Wedding Singer." That flick proved that with the right script, His Goofiness can be entertaining to people over 12. This, however, isn't the right script. And Sandler's character, a failed hockey player who discovers he's good at golf, isn't just goofy; he's obnoxious. Insert your "below par" joke here.

JOHN Q

Wednesday at 1:28 p.m. on SPIKE

Under most circumstances, only a heartless creep would come down hard on the story of a man battling the system

All going through painfully contrived plot developments. After a half-hour or so, you'll be ready to pull the plug yourself.

FRIDAY THE 13TH PART VIII: JASON TAKES MANHATTAN

Wednesday at 8 p.m. on AMC

It's hard to take a slasher film seriously when its title evokes a Muppet movie. Of course, it's hard to take a slasher film seriously, period, but it should at least make an effort to scare the audience. This 1989 entry in the "Friday" franchise, set aboard a dilapidated wannabe cruise ship carrying a high-school senior class — and Jason, of course — to the Big

Critics Choice

Apple is likely to have you snarking more than screaming.

DUCK DYNASTY

Wednesday at 9 p.m. on A&E

Anything YouTube can do, he can do better. After watching some instructional videos online, Si decides to make his own. With help from Jase, Jep, Godwin and Martin, he creates a golf tutorial incorporating his four-point philosophy and uploads it to the Web. After John Luke totals his truck, Willie gets a loaner, which his niece and nephew proceed to cover in ice cream, in the new episode "Going Si-ral."

THE COLD LIGHT OF DAY

Thursday at 6:50 p.m. on SHOW

If your father is played by Bruce Willis, and he's supposedly a worker drone, chances are good he's keeping some big secrets. That's what the character played by the screen's latest Superman, Henry Cavill, finds out in this underwhelming 2012 melodrama. During a vacation in Spain, the Wall Street employee played by Cavill is distraught when relatives are kidnapped, forcing him to turn to his father for any possible help. Sigourney Weaver also appears.

REIGN

Thursday at 8 p.m. on KCWE

It's a teen soap; it just happens to be about royal teenagers in the 1500s. Australian actress Adelaide Kane stars in this new period drama as the future Mary, Queen of Scots. Here, she's 15 and has just arrived in France to formalize her engagement to Prince Francis (Toby Regbo). Obstacles await — including the prince's mother (Megan Follows), who opposes the union, and his illegitimate half brother (Torrance Coombs), who's interested in her.

SEAN SAVES THE WORLD

Thursday at 8 p.m. on KSHB

Robert Gant ("Queer as Folk") guest stars in this new episode as Sean's (Sean Hayes) blind date, a periodontist named Chase. Sean agrees to let Ellie (Samantha Isler) go to a party while he's out on the date, but he spends the evening worrying about her. Max (Thomas Lennon) thinks Sean has a crush on him in "Date Expectations." Linda Lavin also stars.

PROJECT RUNWAY

Thursday at 8 p.m. on LIFE

The clothes aren't necessarily scandalous, but the star of television's "Scandal," Kerry Washington, serves as guest judge for the season finale, as the remaining designers show their collections at Lincoln Center during New York's Fashion Week. After the fashion show, the winner will be crowned.

WHITE COLLAR

Thursday at 8 p.m. on USA

Neal (Matt Bomer) takes drastic measures to clear Peter (Tim DeKay), who is in prison facing murder charges for Pratt's death. With all the evidence pointing to him, proving him innocent will be a daunting task — and an expensive proposition — in the season premiere, "At What Price." Willie Garson also stars.

THE STORY OF MANKIND

Thursday at 8:45 p.m. on TCM

Earth Day was far off in the future when Irwin Allen's ("The Poseidon Adventure") 1957 fantasy came out, but it's a masterful bit of recycling, making liberal use of stock footage and actors past their prime. Campy cameos abound as the Great Court of Outer Space — no, really! — debates whether the human race should be allowed to continue by looking at various moments in history. Vincent Price as the devil is an easy sell, but Harpo Marx as Sir Isaac Newton? Ronald Colman also appears.

ICE SPIDERS

Thursday at 10 p.m. on SYFY

Arachnophobes might want to find something else to watch tonight. For that matter, so might fans of classic creepy-crawly movies. There's just something about a flick like "Tarantula," with its low-tech special effects, that can't be found in newer, computer-effect-driven movies like this 2007 tale of giant mutant spiders terrorizing Olympic skiers. It may appeal to two groups — those who don't care how their big bugs are made and those interested in a mini-"Melrose Place" reunion, as Thomas Calabro and Vanessa Williams are in the cast.

SILVER BULLET

Friday at 5 p.m. on AMC

Movies based on Stephen King's work can be great — "Carrie" and "Misery" come to mind. They can also be awful — "Needful Things," anyone? This 1985 offering definitely falls in the latter category. Corey Haim plays a paralyzed youngster who is convinced that the gruesome killings plaguing his formerly peaceful small town are the work of a werewolf. It's a Stephen King story, so guess what happens. Megan Follows and Gary Busey also star.

I NOW PRONOUNCE YOU CHUCK AND LARRY

Friday at 6:30 p.m. on OXY

Somewhere there's a movie that plays bureaucracy and bigotry for laughs with understated, clever satire. This 2007 comedy is not that movie. Adam Sandler, whose bad flicks continue to outnumber his good ones, added another to the bad column with this. He plays a homophobic firefighter roped into posing as his best friend's (Kevin James) lover for employee benefit purposes. From here, the movie becomes simply a vehicle on which to hang tired cheap shots at not only gays but women, blacks and Asians. Skip it.

BROKEN CITY

Friday at 7:10 p.m. on MAX

New York is the city in question, depicted as a dark-spirited metropolis full of double-crossings, in director Allen Hughes' 2013 drama. Russell Crowe plays the mayor, who maneuvers an ex-cop (Mark Wahlberg) into investigating the supposedly unfaithful wife (Catherine Zeta-Jones) of the re-election-minded politician. Eventually, the sleuth determines there's much more involved. Jeffrey Wright and Kyle Chandler also appear.

THE NEIGHBORS

Friday at 7:31 p.m. on KMBC

Eight nights of trick-or-treating? Sign us up! Larry (Simon Templeman) learns about Hanukkah and falls in love with it, so he decides to combine Hanukkah with his other favorite holiday, Halloween. When he can't drum up any support for the first seven nights, he tries passing out candy to kids on the playground and gets in trouble with the police in the new episode "Challoweenukah." Jami Gertz and Lenny Venito also star.

WHAT NOT TO WEAR

Friday at 8 p.m. on TLC

After 10 years and more than 300 makeovers, Stacy and Clinton are hanging it up. On their way to Las Vegas to help one more bad dresser improve her wardrobe, they check in with past subjects to see how they've done since appearing on the show in the series finale, "The Last Hurrah in Vegas!"

AFTERSCHOOL

Friday at 10 p.m. on SHOW

Written and directed by "Martha Marcy May Marlene" producer Antonio Campos, this disturbing 2008 drama is set in a prep school, where a reclusive student (Ezra Miller) obsessed with videos inadvertently records the deaths of two fellow students from contaminated drugs. Things get only more bizarre from there. Addison Timlin, Jeremy Allen White and Michael Stuhlbarg also star.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Saturday at 6:30 p.m. on KSHB

A nonconference battle of historical rivals is in the offing tonight at South Bend, Ind., where Tommy Rees and the No. 22-ranked Fighting Irish of Notre Dame play host to Cody Kessler and the unranked USC Trojans. After replacing the departed Everett Golson, Rees has acquitted himself nicely this season, leading the Irish to three wins in their first four games. He'll be facing down a Trojans defense that ranks among the nation's best.

MAMA

Saturday at 7 p.m. on HBO

Jessica Chastain switches up her screen image as the rather Goth heroine of this horror tale from executive producer Guillermo del Toro ("Pan's Labyrinth"). She plays the girlfriend of the uncle (Nikolaj Coster-Waldau, "Game of Thrones") of two children who vanished after their father killed their mother. When they're located several years later, very spooky doings accompany their return. Megan Charpentier and Isabelle Nelisse portray the youngsters.

WHEN CALLS THE HEART

Saturday at 8 p.m. on HALL

Based on Janette Oke's Canadian West book series, this new fish-out-of-water drama tells the story of a young teacher (Poppy Drayton) who accepts a position in a small coal town on the prairie. Lori Loughlin and Jean Smart play the two strong-willed widows who run the town. Maggie Grace and Stephen Amell ("Arrow") also star.

A NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET

Saturday at 9 p.m. on AMC

You can't keep a good movie villain down, especially if he has memorable appliances such as the knifelike fingernails of Freddy Krueger, the fiend of many unfortunate teenagers' dreams. A game Jackie Earle Haley gives it his best shot in this often graphic — but only moderately effective — reboot of the original thriller, with Rooney Mara ("The Girl With the Dragon Tattoo") as Freddy's main target.

THE RUINS

Saturday at 10 p.m. on SYFY

Will they ever learn? It's terror time for more youths who venture where they shouldn't in this 2008 horror story, adapted by Scott B. Smith from his own novel. Jena Malone ("Into the Wild"), Shawn Ashmore ("X-Men") and Jonathan Tucker are among those playing vacationers lured into an excursion to a Mayan temple. The group encounters not only hostile locals but vines that appear to have a life of their own as they ward off intruders.
